Week Two

Malala Essay:

Directions: Use the PFO rubric to construct a FIVE PARAGRAPH ESSAY on the specific question assigned to you below. The essay is due on the day you return to school. You may type your essay or write it out on notebook paper. If you would like to type your essay, please bring a copy to class on our first day back to school as well as turning it in through Schoology. Please make sure to include your name and the prompt you are assigned.

Prompt #1:

How does Malala mature over the course of her life in this memoir? Was this maturity forced, or voluntary? Write a five-paragraph essay in which you generate a claim and support your answer using details from the text.

Prompt #2:

What are three words that best describe Malala at different parts of the story. Write two examples from the text to explain each of the words you chose. Write a five-paragraph essay in which you generate a claim and support your answer using details from the text.

Prompt #3:

Because Malala's father refused to close the school and continued to allow the girls to gather under his supervision (at school) do you think Malala's father was responsible for what happened to Malala? Write a five-paragraph essay in which you generate a claim and support your answer using details from the text.
