Options for submitting work from home

Option A: Keep up with work online with MyPerspectives, and submit work online with MyPerspectives.

Option B: Keep up with work in a paper copy of MyPerspectives, and submit work (clearly labeled with student name and name of assignment) by email.

Option C: Keep up with work in a paper copy of MyPerspectives, and submit work on paper (clearly labeled with student name and name of assignment) when you return to school.

When we return to school, you will take tests over your mastery of the material.

Keeping in touch with me

Every Monday, I send an email to all parents. I'll continue to do that during our time working from home. If you are not currently getting those emails, but want to get them, you can subscribe at <https://tinyletter.com/HeatherJonesSCPA>. That link also has an archive of past letters.

Each day that we are working from home, I will check my school email. Please email me at joneshe@cps-k12.org with any questions or problems that I can help with.

Technical problems with MyPerspectives?

The most common problem that prevents access is that you may have a Google account other than your school Google account logged in on your device, confusing the interface that connects with your school Google account. Try logging out of everything that uses Google on the device - including YouTube and apps - and then logging into your school Google account.
