

Hello Fourth Grade Students,

We have three online Math and Science resources for students to work in while they are on extended break. These resources should be familiar to students because we have used them in class throughout the year.

I have loaded assignments for our students into the websites, and lessons can be accessed here:

iXL - www.ixl.com/signin/cpsboe

Zearn - www.zearn.org

Khan Academy - www.khanacademy.org

These websites are free and our students (Vance/Rotte) have access and passwords for each of these websites.

The students have their usernames (their CPS username) and their password is their 8-digit birthday. We did send those home earlier this year and again in January when we came back from break.

If any parents can't access the systems, they can email vanceja@cpsboe.k12.oh.us, and I can look them up.
